A Lash at the Muck-Raker.

Charles E. Hughes, whose splendid work as counsel and investigator for the Armstrong investigating committee, in New York, gave him a national and world-wide reputation, and has earned for him the admiration and affectionate regard of the whole American people, has no use for the "muck-raker," and the earnest words he spoke on the subject of muck-raking at the Page dinner in New York, Thursday night, are well-timed and will not be lost in their effect.

What Mr. Hughes said was, in substance, what Governor Stokes said in a speech at a dinner in East Orange last month. "I believe in criticism," said Mr. Hughes. "I believe in criticism, strong criticism. The community owes it not only to itself to be relentless with the evil-doers, but to give its meed of praise to those who stand true to their trusts. We are not lacking in faithful public servants. There is no reason for general abuse of those who represent us in the Legislature or on the bench."

Governor Stokes made the same earnest plea in almost the same language.
Again, Mr. Hughes repeats the admonitions of New Jersey's Governor when he says: "A sorry spectacle is the man who sees nothing but evil in a world of good. The contagion of good is more potent than the contagion of evil.
It is true we have in this country a great deal of dissatisfaction, of meanness, which springs from a feeling that there are wrongs to be righted, discriminations in business life that should be exposed.
But so far as our public ideals go, I believe they were never higher than at the present moment, nor was there ever a time when men in public life were more responsive to them."

Mr. Hughes speaks directly to the point and utters truths in epigrams.
His words have a singular application to affairs in this State, as when he says in conclusion: "We have great need for men who can think sanely, who have sense of proportion, who are not carried away by desire to repeat the rewards of criticism. It is a great misfortune to a man to find him lacking in what he lovable about him; that he becomes a common scold. I take no pessimistic view of the future of our public life. The motive of our public men is more largely to-day the giving to the community that which benefits it than mere transient successes of individual or party."

These sane, just and eminently truthful views by a man of the character of Charles E. Hughes are addressed to the American people generally. In the main they reiterate the words of Governor Stokes and emphasize them. Let us criticize and condemn evil-doers, but at the same time give credit to those who are faithful, and "we are not lacking in faithful servants," as the record of State legislation this year shows.

Let us not eternally hold up the evil and hideous, says Governor Stokes, and Mr. Hughes responds: "The contagion of evil." Governor Stokes asserted the integrity of the average public officer, and Mr. Hughes says that "so far as our public ideals go they were never higher than at the present moment, nor was there ever a time when men in public life were more responsive to them."

New Departure.

After two months of remarkable sales, W. W. Keyler, the enterprising druggist, says that the rate of selling at half price the regular 50 cent size of Dr.
Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, and guaranteeing to refund the money if it does not cure, has been the greatest success he has ever known.

He has sold hundreds of bottles of the specific, and as yet he has not had one returned, although he stands ready at any time to refund the money should any customer be dissatisfied. This is the strongest testimony that can be furnished to the great merit of this medicine.

Any one suffering with dyspepsia, constipation, liver troubles, headaches, distended, coated tongue, or the general tired feeling, caused by inactive liver and bowels or disordered digestion, should take advantage of W. W. Key-ler's new departure and buy a bottle of Dr. Howard's specific at half price, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

The specific comes in the form of small granules, very pleasant to take, and each vial contains sixty doses. Under Mr.
Keyler's special half price offer, this means a month's treatment at 25 cents, with the best medicine known for the cure of constipation and stomach troubles.—Advt.

Mr. Record at Utica.

Reference was made the other day to the fact that at a dollar dinner Mayor Fagan of Jersey City nominated George L. Record, well known in Utica, for United States Senator. That was a very complimentary reference and attracted a good deal of attention. Mr. Record has decided to accept the suggestion and has issued a statement, extracts from which are given in another column, setting forth his views and telling what he will and will not do if elected. He says he is a Roosevelt Republican, which is also intended to convey the idea that he is quite independent. Mr. Record represents himself as a reformer pure and simple. He is in favor of driving the rascals out and putting better men and better methods in the vacancies thus created. He is the anti-machine candidate. He attacked Senator Dryden for being a plutocrat, a monopolist, an occupation and all the rest.

What Mr. Record says on this subject will be read with interest by those in this city who remember how nearly he organized the water monopoly combining the West Canada Creek Company, which had nothing but some options and a franchise, with the Utica water works company, and making the Consolidated company, which has bought up and now controls every drop of water worth mentioning that can come into Utica except what falls direct from heaven. In view of his attitude as an anti-monopolist and a municipal reformer, it would be interesting to know what Mr. Record would do if he were the power behind the throne of Mayor Sherman, as he is reputed to be the power behind the throne of Mayor Fagan of Jersey City. He charges Senator Dryden with being the leading man in the control of the Public Service Corporation in New Jersey, "whose alliance with the bosses of both parties has become notorious." He comes out strong against the alliance of corporations with machine politics. If Mr. Record could spare a little time from his Senatorial canvass to come up to Utica and discuss these questions, in view of his familiarity with the situation here, his discourse might be exceedingly interesting. He is a shrewd, able man, and whoever opposes him will have a foeman worthy of his steel.—Utica
